Full Stack Web Developer with a background in customer service and warehousing that can bring a unique perspective to web development and user interaction. Earned a certificate in Full Stack Web Development from the UNC Charlotte Coding Boot Camp. I am naturally inquisitive and always up for a challenge. I work well with others or by myself. I am self-motivating, so I have no problem getting a task done with little to no supervision. My strengths are teamwork, dedication, and seeing a plan through to the end.
